I like the overall look of the new building, particularly the light, spacious hall. It has 2 meeting rooms which is useful.

I like that its making use of the original footprint. Not sure about the hall way which appears to have different floor levels. Less useful for large groups

Any other comments

I prefer Design 1. The hall is a useful for larger groups eg yoga, school activities. There needs to be a smaller group room as well. There should also be at least 2/3 meeting rooms for use by those people who are self employed eg counsellors, therapists & a quiet workspace. The area would need to be accessed by a separate entrance & also have a w-c facility. From my own experience, private meeting rooms are hard to come by and could produce a financial benefit towards the maintenance of the building.

In my opinion the new building should not be called parish rooms - something a bit more modern would be more appealing
